THE JAMES E. AND CAROLYN B. DAVIS SOCIETY

Jim Davis, a 1973 Law School graduate of superb ability and character, died of cancer in 1980. His wife, Carolyn, an outstanding person in her own right, died of cancer in 1982. To perpetuate the memory of these two individuals, who possessed qualities of integrity, responsibility, leadership, and dedication, their friends and families have established the James E. and Carolyn B. Davis Society in their names. The Society allows for recognition of up to eight third year law students who have made significant contributions to the Law School.

The James E. and Carolyn B. Davis Society is intended to recognize third year students possessing both academic and personal excellence and a willingness to serve for the betterment of the Law School and its faculty and students. Inductees will be recognized at Commencement and receive a framed certificate in honor of their selection. They will also be honored at a reception during Commencement weekend. A Davis Society plaque with each recipient's name is also displayed in the Law School lobby.

To be considered for the James E. and Carolyn B. Davis Society, a third year student must be nominated, in writing, by another law student (any year), or faculty or staff member. Those making nominations should consider the qualities of leadership ability, extracurricular activities, character, and academic achievement. There is no official nomination form. Nominees may later submit additional information about their extracurricular activities, honors, and academic achievement. You may drop off nominations to Hudson Fuller's office in room 5023 in the Student Affairs suite. Nominations may also be made via email to Dean Crisp (wbcrisp@email.unc.edu), Hudson Fuller (vhfuller@email.unc.edu), or Wendy Spitze(spitzer@email.unc.edu).

THE DEADLINE FOR NOMINATIONS IS MONDAY, MARCH 22, AT 5:00 P.M.

CAROLINA CENTER FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

The Carolina Center for Public Service (CCPS) administers the Public Service Listserv as part of its mission to support UNC-CH students, faculty, and staff as they perform public service. For more info on CCPS, please visit our website at <http://www.unc.edu/cps>

SUMMER FUNDING POSSIBILITIES FOR UNPAID SUMMER PUBLIC INTEREST INTERNSHIPS

There are several sources of funding through the law school if you will be working in an unpaid public interest setting this summer. Criteria for the grants differs. You are encouraged to apply to all grants for which your placement would be eligible

(but you are allowed to receive only one grant). Please note that not all students who apply for funding will be able to get funding.

IOLTA: The Board of Trustees of the North Carolina State Bar Plan for Interest on Lawyer=s Trust Accounts (IOLTA) has approved funding for five UNC law students to pursue service summer internships. A three thousand ($3000) stipend (minus taxes) will be awarded to each of the five law students. The student must work at an approved participating IOLTA organization. The placements are all in North Carolina and include D.A.s offices, PDs offices, Legal Services offices and some other nonprofit organizations. The application is open to first and second year law students. Applications for IOLTA grants will be available from Hudson Fuller and will be due by 5:00 p.m. on March 17th. Recipients will tentatively be announced by March 23rd.

C-PILO (Carolina Public Interest Law Organization) grants: C-PILO is a student organization that each year raises money to give summer grants to students working in summer placements. This year the grants will likely be around $2500. The applications will probably be due in late March and the recipients will be announced shortly thereafter. The number if recipients will likely be between ten and fifteen. C-PILO handles their own grant application and questions about eligibility should be directed to the C-PILO officers.

ILENE NELSON INTERNSHIP FOR CHILD ADVOCACY: grant given to a law student who will be working during the summer with a non-profit, legal services organization, governmental or private group that focuses on children's rights and advocacy. Applications will be available on March 1st from Hudson Fuller and will be due on March 17th. The applications of those applicants who do not receive funding will be forwarded to Child Action to be considered for funding by them.

STEVEN WHITSELL MEMORIAL INTERNSHIP: small stipend paid to student working with an organization that promotes social justice and, if possible, specifically, affordable housing. Preference given to students in dual degree of Law and City and Regional Planning. There will not be a separate application for this grant. Instead, there will be a place on the C-PILO grant to indicate whether you wish to be considered for this grant.

CAROLINA COMMUNITY SERVICE WORK-STUDY PROGRAM: If you receive more than $1400 in financial aid or loans through the university, you may be eligible to receive a work-study grant. We hope to receive between ten and twelve work-study grants this year. You must work at a 501(c)(3) organization and the employer must be willing to pay part of your salary. Several organizations coming on campus for the Public Interest Job Fair or requesting mail-outs have indicated a willingness to participate depending on their funding. The Community Work-Study Program is 75% federal funded, while the agency is responsible for paying 25% of the student's wages plus FICA. Law students will be paid $8.50 an hour for a ten week period. The agency will therefore be responsible for about $1200 per student. The work period for work-study grants is a ten week work period, 40 hours a week (this is not flexible). The Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships will provide payroll services to the student and will simply bill the agency by June 1st for the 25% plus matching FICA share. The application process is rolling. Please see Hudson Fuller if you have questions about these grants.

JAMES B. MCMILLAN SUMMER FELLOWSHIPS FOR LAW STUDENTS

In 1995, the Mecklenburg Bar Foundation in Charlotte, Mecklenburg County, NC, created the James B. McMillan Fellowship Fund to underwrite summer clerkships for law students with local public service organizations. These fellowships carry an annual stipend of up to $3,000. Students interested in applying for a McMillan Fellowship are encouraged to make direct contact with the public interest organization or governmental agency in whose work they are interested. In this way, the student and the agency can submit a joint application.

Deadline for applications is March 15, 2004. The Fellowship Fund committee will look favorably on law students who have lived in Mecklenburg County; who intend to practice law in Mecklenburg County; who reflect the cultural diversity of North Carolina and Mecklenburg County; whose law school and life experiences reflect a desire to have a positive impact on the lives of others as their lives are affected by the legal system and its administration; and who have demonstrated good character and suitable academic performance in law school. The Law Registrar's Office has a list of the organizations that have been awarded McMillan Fellowships in the past and other information about this fellowship.

CABANISS, JOHNSTON SCHOLARSHIP

The Cabaniss, Johnston Scholarship is awarded to a resident of Alabama for the second year of law school. Applicants for a scholarship should be in all respects superior. While academic achievement will be the key factor, consideration will also be given to factors such as conscientiousness, dependability, civic involvement, financial need and dedication to the highest ethical standards. The amount of the scholarship is $5,000. A second place scholarship of $1,000 will also be awarded. The deadline for applying for the 2004-05 school year is June 4, 2004. More information is available in the Law Registrar's Office.

6. LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES FOR CAROLINA LAW STUDENTS

2004 BANKING INSTITUTE, APRIL 1-2, CHARLOTTE

The 2004 Banking Institute will be held April 1-2 at the Charlotte Marriott City Center. The program features panels on preemption, tying, financial literacy, Basel II, Markets for Bank Stock, and Managing Risk in Capital Markets Activities. The featured speaker will be John Allison, CEO of BB&T Corporation. Thursday evening, April 1, the Center for Banking and Finance will present Leadership Awards to Jerone Herring, Marion Cowell and Paul Polking in recognition of their stellar careers as the general counsels of BB&T, First Union and Bank of America, respectively. This program regularly attracts over 200 participants and is a wonderful networking opportunity for students interested in business law. The North Carolina Banking Institute Journal is distributed at the program. UNC students are invited to attend the program for free (attorneys must pay a $395 registration fee). The program begins at 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, April 1 and concludes at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, April 2. The full program brochure is available at <http://www.law.unc.edu/cle/calendar/040104.html>. If you would like to attend, please return the completed registration form to Jackie Carlock in the CLE Office at the law school by Friday, March 26. Business attire is requested.

THE VIENNA SUMMER PROGRAM 2004

The Vienna Summer Program builds upon strong relationships with Wake Forest School of Law and the Law School of the University of Vienna. The course offers are European Union and Globalization. The course includes visits to foreign courts and lawyers' offices and introduces students to European lawyers, jurists, and academics. The dates of program is July 5 - July 29, 2004. More information is available in the Law Registrar's Office.

GEORGETOWN SUMMER LAW PROGRAM 2004

Georgetown University Law Center is offering an exciting and intensive summer law program in London, England from July 12 - August 7, 2004. University College London (UCL) is London's oldest university and is recognized as the best law school in the United Kingdom. This program continues the tradition of academic excellence which began in 1988 with our first summer study abroad program in Florence, Italy. More information is available in the Law Registrar's Office.

LONDON & LISBON SUMMER PROGRAMS 2004

The London Comparative Advocacy Internships Program combines classroom learning at the Inner Temple and a unique and privileged opportunity for students to be trained in English common law trial techniques with a barrister. The Program starts Monday, June 21 - Friday, July 9.

Roger Williams University Ralph R. Papitto School of Law, in cooperation with the Catholic University of Portugal, presents a unique opportunity for study abroad in the summer of 2004. Classes will be taught in English by professors from the Catholic University of Portugal, the leading private university faculty of law in Portugal, and by professors in other European universities and Roger Williams University School of Law. The Program starts Monday, July 12 - Friday, July 30. More information is available in the Law Registrar's Office.

BAR SUCCESS WORKSHOP

For the fourth year in a row we are offering a review workshop for graduating students. The workshop is not intended to replace your summer preparation or any other review courses. Rather, our goal is to alert you to some common themes our faculty committee has pinpointed concerning ways to maximize your potential to succeed the first time you take the exam. The workshop will be run by Ms. Denise Chapin, an adjunct faculty member at Carolina Law.

The three-part workshop will meet at the following times and places:

Wednesday, March 17, 6:15-9:00 p.m., in room 5042. This first meeting will be a review of what the North Carolina bar exam entails and how it is scored. It will also include concrete information about how to prepare for the exam. You are invited to attend this first meeting even if you do not intend to participate in the next two meetings that will focus specifically on the essay portion of the North Carolina bar exam.

Wednesdays, March 24 and March 31, 6:15-8:45 p.m., in room 5042. These second and third meetings will focus on the essay portion of the bar exam, and require a commitment to attend both of these sessions. Concrete information concerning the differences between law school essay exam questions and bar exam essays will be discussed. You will also have an opportunity to try writing some bar exam essay questions and will obtain feedback about effective answers.

If you have questions, please see Hudson Fuller in the Student Affairs Suite.

AUGSBURG UNIVERSITY PRESENTATION MEETING

The UNC School of Law is starting an exchange program with the University of Augsburg in Germany. UNC-Law students will be eligible to go study at Augsburg during the summer, starting in summer 2005. Two Augsburg representatives will be at UNC to present their program, university and city on March 17th, 2004. The meeting will take place on Wednesday, March 17th at noon, in Room 4085.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAW SOCIETIES ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Lewis & Clark Law School, nationally recognized for its award-winning environmental and natural resources law program, offers a 10-week summer program packed with innovative, fast-paced environmental law courses as well as more general classes.

This spring, Lewis & Clark will also host the National Association of Environmental Law Societies' annual conference, "Public Lands at the Crossroads: Balancing Interests in the 21st Century." This conference, to be held March 26-28, 2004, to discuss the future of public lands in the U.S. The conference will be a great opportunity for law professors and students to hear the latest developments in the field. More information on the summer program and the conference are in the Law Registrar's Office.
