This event is open to the entire Law School Community.

PAID SUMMER POSITIONS WITH THE UNC CENTER FOR CIVIL RIGHTS

The UNC Center for Civil Rights seeks four law students for paid summer positions. Students will work under the direction of Anita Earls (the Center's Director of Advocacy) and Professor Jack Boger on a variety of legal issues including public education, community development, voting rights, and housing. Anticipated activities include meeting with community groups, drafting legal memoranda and pleadings, conducting factual investigations, and assisting in the planning of a major national conference. The positions are designed to last for 12 weeks at 35 hours/week, but split summers may be possible. Please deliver resume, and transcript to Prof. Boger by March 25th.

SYDNEY INFORMATION MEETING

There will be an information meeting for the UNC-Law Summer 2004 Sydney Program on Wednesday March 24th at 12:00 Noon in Room 4046.

BUSINESS LAW COURSES DESCRIPTION PRESENTATION

Learn from the Professors themselves about next year's Business Law course offerings! A presentation/discussion will be given on April 6 (noon in Room 5042) by many members of the Business Law faculty, in order to inform the students of what Business Law course offerings will be available next year. All students are invited – attend if you'd like a better understanding of course coverage, right before the 1L Registration begins. This topic is sponsored by the Entrepreneurial Law Association. Notice: Due to the number of attendees expected, lunch will not be provided.

CAROLINA CENTER FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

The Carolina Center for Public Service (CCPS) administers the Public Service Listserv as part of its mission to support UNC-CH students, faculty, and staff as they perform public service. For

BAR SUCCESS WORKSHOP

For the fourth year in a row we are offering a review workshop for graduating students. The workshop is not intended to replace your summer preparation or any other review courses. Rather, our goal is to alert you to some common themes our faculty committee has pinpointed concerning ways to maximize your potential to succeed the first time you take the exam. The workshop will be run by Ms. Denise Chapin, an adjunct faculty member at Carolina Law.

The three-part workshop will meet at the following times and places:

Wednesdays, March 24 and March 31, 6:15-8:45 p.m., in room 5042. These second and third meetings will focus on the essay portion of the bar exam, and require a commitment to attend both of these sessions. Concrete information concerning the differences between law school essay exam questions and bar exam essays will be discussed. You will also have an opportunity to try writing some bar exam essay questions and will obtain feedback about effective answers.

If you have questions, please see Hudson Fuller in the Student Affairs Suite.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAW SOCIETIES ANNUAL CONFERENCE
